

An Evening With Mike Dilger

"The Trials and Tribulations of a Natural History Presenter"

The Essex Badger Protection Group is delighted to host an evening with ecologist, TV wildlife presenter, published writer and our group's Patron Mike Dilger.

The Trials and Tribulations of a Natural History Presenter is an illuminating and sideways look at what it takes to produce cheap and cheerful wildlife television. Featuring some clips from The One Show, Mike reveals what often goes on behind the scenes on location and spills the beans on everything you wanted to know about TV presenting but were afraid to ask.

An ecologist, natural history presenter and writer Mike Dilger has a life-long passion for British and tropical flora and fauna, of which he has profound experience and encyclopedic knowledge.

Mike will also be signing copies of his new book "Nightingales in November".
